The Truist Championship is a PGA TOUR professional golf tournament held at Quail Hollow Club in North Carolina. The tournament is operated by PGA TOUR Enterprises, LLC and is focused on generating revenue for charitable organizations in the greater North Carolina and South Carolina areas.

Birdies for Better is a fundraising program designed to give participating charities the opportunity to generate contributions for their organization in connection with the Truist Championship.

The primary goal of the Birdies for Better program is to successfully solicit and collect donations from the general public. PGA TOUR Charities is dedicated to advancing charitable giving, raising awareness of area charities and grantmaking to charities which PGA TOUR Charities approves. PGA TOUR Charities will manage the operation of the Birdies for Better program for the Truist Championship but will not solicit donations for or on behalf of any participating charity. 100% of the donations collected will go to the particular approved charity who solicited the donation. In the event PGA TOUR Charities cannot distribute amounts donated under the Birdies for Better program to a participating charity, PGA TOUR Charities will use the amounts for other charitable purposes.

Participating charities are prohibited from soliciting donations in advance of the official kick-off of the program. Charities may notify constituents via normal communication (e.g., newsletter) that the charity is participating in the program but may not directly or indirectly request a donation be made in advance of the official program period. Failure to abide by this prohibition will result in expulsion from the program.

Limited Use of the Birdies for Better and the Truist Championship™ names and marks (together, the “Charity Marks”) will be granted to participating charities provided that samples of any material created outside of the PGA TOUR Charities-provided marketing toolkit (available for download at <https://www.truistchampionship.com/birdies>) (the “Marketing Toolkit”), which bear such Charity Marks must be submitted to the tournament office for approval prior to distribution. “Limited Use” means the public use of certain Charity Marks associated with material related to the digital marketing and promotion of the Birdies for Better program outside of what has been provided within the Marketing Toolkit. Usage of material found within the Marketing Toolkit does not require prior approval of the tournament office. Unauthorized use of the Charity Marks or any trademark owned or licensed by PGA TOUR Enterprises, LLC or Truist Financial Corporation is strictly prohibited and is grounds for immediate expulsion from the program.

Donations to participating charities in the program will be equal to 100% of the collected donations. No payment will be made for uncollected donations.
